

Changing University-Industry Interfaces: Conflicts of Interest and Other New Challenges

Annetine Gelijns, MD and Alan Moskowitz, MD

October 17, 2002
4:00 pm - 5:30 pm

Merritt Conference Room
College of Physicians and Surgeons
630 West 168th St.
New York, NY 10032

Dr. Annetine Gelijns is Associate Professor of Surgical Sciences and Public Health, and Co-Director of the International Center for Health Outcomes and Innovation Research (InCHOIR) at Columbia University. Her research interests center on the factors shaping medical innovations, clinical trial design, patient safety, and the economics of medical technology.

Dr. Alan Moskowitz is Associate Professor of Clinical Medicine and Associate Professor of Clinical Public Health, as well as Associate Director of InCHOIR.